ANOTHER OF IKE'S COMPOSITIONS—"Plymouth Rock" was the subject given out for the exercise of the school, and the next morning the teacher and the whole of the boys were astonished at the following composition by Ike Partington, which displayed great historical acumen, and a most astonishing chronological faculty:

"Plymouth Rock—This rock was brought to this country in the 'Mayflower,' in the year 1492, by the Pilgrims under direction of Elder Gamaliel Brewster, who afterwards removed to Boston and became an Alderman of that city. Plymouth Rock was put on a wharf, where part of it remains to this day, as people may see, if they will take the trouble to scratch the dirt away. No reason is given for putting the rock up so far from the water, except it was to keep it out of the wet. Dr N B Shurtleff was the first to land on Plymouth Rock, which he did without any trouble, because it wasn't a very big one. It was on this rock that Governor Carver first shook hands with Samoset, who said, 'Welcome, English men!' It was recorded that when Samoset came up, Governor asked him if he was a real Ingine, or only a member of an ingine company. The rock has long been regarded as a famous place, and a great many things have been written about it. Strangers coming on the coast always climb to the mast-heads with a spy glass to see Plymouth Rock.

The American eagle from a great many years used to come and whet his beak on the rock, but in 1663 Miles Standish, in order to keep it from getting stolen, took all there was of it, and carried it up and put it in front of Pilgrim Hall, where it remains at the present time invested with great interest and an iron fence. The fence bears the names of all the pilgrims in cast iron letters that can't be rubbed out. On the other part of the rock, the descendant of the pilgrims have landed, because they have covered it up with land, probably to save it from being worn out by the allusions touching it that are thrown off by Fourth of July orators and other patriots. Plymouth Rock is the corner-stone in the cellar-wall of our republican institute, parabolically speaking, and the spirit of Liberty sits upon it with a drawn sword in one hand, and the torch of freedom in the other. The monument to the Pilgrim Fathers, commenced by Mr Billings, in 1663, upon Plymouth Rock, will be three thousand feet above the level of the sea, and can be easily seen from New Haven, the place the pilgrims came from, with the naked eye It was concerning this rock that Mr Pierpont wrote his celebrated ode commencing, supposed to allude to the Cushman procession that visited the spot in 1716, and at the time of the great famine. Peregrine White, the first white child born in Massachusetts, was born on Plymouth Rock, and Miles Standish, when John Alden swindled him out of Priscilla in 1803, sharpened his sword on Plymouth Rock, swearing revenge In short, Plymouth Rock is one of the palladiums of our liberty, and if foes invade the shores of Plymouth at high water—for they can never get in at low tide—the people will throw this rock in their teeth. It is a precious legacy from the past to the present, and from it may be reckoned the Pilgrim's Progress.'

'We've found the rock, the travelers cried,'

A SINGULAR CASE OF EMBEZZLEMENT—The Supreme Court at Dedham was occupied on Thursday in the trial of a curious case. It was an action by Henry N Hooper & Co., against Charles Wyman, a former clerk of the concern, for alleged embezzlement of a large sum in the year 1847 The defendant had been their confidential clerk and book-keeper, in whom they had the most entire confidence, for twenty years, and this continued up to the time he left, in 1846 After he left they were induced to make a thorough examination of the books from 1840, and they discovered a deficiency in 1847 or 48, which had been carefully concealed and carried along on the books from that time. They sent for the defendant and demanded an explanation, when he acknowledged that he took the money, and told them they might be thankful it was no more He at first promised restitution, but declined to sign any paper or to make any conveyance, and this suit was brought and certain real estate of the defendant in Roxbury attached. The defendant conducted his own case. He admitted that he took the money, but set up the statute of limitations. He also testified under oath that Mr. Hooper knew of the defalcation in 1849. This the latter denied under oath. Judge Metcalf instructed the jury, that, if they were satisfied of two things, first, that the defendant took the money, and secondly that he fraudulently concealed the taking of it, then the statute of limitation did not apply, and the defendant was liable for the amount and interest. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiffs for sixteen thousand four hundred and eighty-seven dollars and ten cents—Boston Atlas and Bee.

MONSTER ROOF—The work on the roof of Brown & Brothers' Brass Rolling Mill, is fast approaching completion. The building is 205 feet in length, by 125 in width, and the roof covers and spans the whole space without any intermediate support except in the vicinity of the engine, which interfere with and cuts off the tie rods of four of the supporting trusses. The covering of the roof is slate, and the slates are laid upon ribs of iron, to which they are fastened with copper wire. These ribs are securely fastened to the supporting trusses at the proper intervals for each course of slate. The trusses span the entire width of the building, (125 feet) which is believed to be the greatest span of any iron roof yet erected, and presents to the spectator an appearance really imposing—Waterbury, Ct., American.

BAY STATE MILLS STARTING UP—The bell of the Bay State was rung last Monday morning, to call the operatives to work for the first time since the stoppage of last fall. The painters are busily engaged painting the tenements, and repairs are being made in the mill. We do not think it advisable, however, for people to come to this city for employment for some months to come.—Lawrence Courier,

Biennial Sessions.

Extracts from the Report of the Joint Select Committee of the Maine Legislature to whom was referred the subject of Biennial Sessions:

Biennial sessions of the Legislature and biennial elections are new in Maine and in New England. They are contrary to our customs and our habits But it is the prerogative of man to question custom and habit; and to apply his reason to both; and to make such changes as he deems for the best.

A careful examination of the constitutions of the several States of the Union, has led your Committee to the following results. Biennial sessions and biennial elections of Representatives and most other officers, have been adopted and are now in use in seventeen States out of thirty-two, viz: Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Georgia, North Carolina, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Iowa and Minnesota.

In thirteen of the States the Senators are elected for four years, the term of one half the members expiring every two years, so that half the Senate is always composed of old members. In twelve other States the senatorial term is for two or three years, leaving but seven States whose senators are chosen annually.

In twelve of the States the Governor is chosen for four years; and in eleven more for two years, leaving but nine States where the Governor is chosen annually.

In these twenty-three States there the the Governor is elected for four years, the Secretary of State, Treasurer Attorney General, and Auditor or Comptroller, are generally elected for two or four years.

From this examination, it appears that our system of annual sessions is in a minority, and our system of annual elections in a small minority, in the Union. Several of the original thirteen States have abandoned them, and most of the new States have rejected both, and not one of them has adopted both. They have followed the great leading principles of the New England constitutions, such as the distribution of the powers of government into three departments, legislative, executive and judicial, and the division of the legislative power into two houses, but our annual sessions and annual elections have received their condemnation, both in theory and practice and this notwithstanding the important fact that a large portion of the people of each of the northwestern States, at the time it formed its constitution, were men born and bred in the northern and middle States, who understood all the advantages of our system, and whose prejudices were all in its favor.

Biennial elections of Members of Congress are sustained by Mr Madison, in his defense of the constitution of the United States, as safe and wise, and in accordance with example.

By our constitution, as originally framed, all our executive officers, both State and county, were appointed by the Governor But by various amendments of our constitution we have abandoned the whole system, and adopted that of popular elections, presented to us by our young and vigorous sister of the West.

So much for authority and example The leading argument for biennial sessions, is that of economy.

After a careful examination of the various items of expense attending a session of the Legislature, and a comparison of several sessions, your Committee are satisfied that those expenses are not over-estimated in Governor Morrill's Address, and that for many years past the average cost of a session has been seventy-five thousand dollars.

Your Committee are of opinion that each biennial session would be but little, if any, longer than each annual session now is. Nearly half of each session is occupied in organizing, electing State officers, making rules and orders, receiving petitions and initiating business to be matured by the committees, before the work of discussion has made much progress The appropriation bills and many others will be framed for two years instead of one, and it is believed that the number of matters which come before the Legislature will not be much increased, and that the disposition to go home, which grows strong by the middle of March, will bring the session to a close at about the usual time

The National government derives its revenue from duties on imports, a large part of which are really paid by the foreign manufacturer, and the balance indirectly by the people and almost without their knowledge. But the State government has no way of raising a revenue but by direct taxes. The State lands are our only income, and they can hereafter yield but little, as the best of them have been sold. Every expenditure then must be put into the annual tax, must be divided among the different cities and towns, and each man's portion of it must be assessed on him or on his property.

The people of Maine are able and willing to pay all the necessary expenses of good government, but they insist on strict economy everywhere, and do not wish to pay the expenses of an annual session of the Legislature unless it produces some compensating benefit to them.

There has been for years a growing feeling among the people that our laws are too frequently changed; and when the Legislature meets, quite as much anxiety is felt that some mischief will be done as there is hope of real improvement. The clearing up of the forests, the improvement of the farms, the real wealth and prosperity of the people, are attained by hard work, guided by intelligence and education, and not by frequent changes in the laws.

Government is necessary, but too much government is an evil. When good laws are once framed, the more permanent they become, the better is property protected and all the great interests of the State fostered.

There are many calls for private legislation. But the incorporation of several classes of companies can, under the existing laws, be made by application to a Justice of the Peace just as well as by coming to the Legislature, and by a further law on that subject other classes of corporations might be so formed There will remain a few corporations, such for instance as ask for a right to take a toll, or to take private property, which should be created only by the Legislature; but it is believed that these and all other private legislation which justice to individuals or the public good demands, can be provided for by a session once in two years For example, if it is necessary to make appropriation for roads in those parts of the State where the public lands are situated, they can be made for two years as well as one People knowing that the Legislature meets only once in two years will look forward and see what they are going to want during that time

Should the public good require the immediate chartering of a railroad, or any other legislation, of sufficient importance to justify it, a special session can be called. There are a few old claims which have been brought before every Legislature for many years Those claimants may think it hard that they cannot be allowed to "run for luck" annually

There are in every State of the Union, more or less of private claims schemes and projects brought before every Legislature supported by all kinds of plausible arguments and pretenses but having their real origin in the idea that the State is a good natured mother who is always most indulgent to those of her children who give her the most trouble, and who cannot long resist persistent importunities that what is obtained from her is clear gain and that it is perfectly right for every one to get all he can If these projects meet with a hard Committee one year they want the chance of going before an easy and pliable one the next, but the State is not bound to furnish annual sessions for their accommodation, and neither private justice nor public prosperity will suffer by their being confined to biennial manifestations of their courage and activity

It must be remembered that if annual sessions are convenient for those who want special legislation, they are very inconvenient to those who are obliged to come here to defend against it Probably two thirds of all the applications for alterations of the Revised Statutes originate with those who have some case in court or some particular interest to be benefited by the change and those against whom those changes in the law are expected to operate are often compelled to appear and resist So in the applications for divisions of towns and divisions of counties and a large portion of all the other business before the Legislature, the party moving has to be met by a party opposite.

A session of the Legislature is not therefore even in its most favorable aspects an unadulterated blessing but is attended with many evils

The Legislature of 1841 submitted this question of biennial sessions and elections to the people About 9 000 persons voted in its favor and about 27 000 against it The small vote tends to show that but little interest was taken in the matter and that it was not properly discussed among the people

During the previous years from 1835 to 1840 the State government had been supported entirely from the proceeds of the public lands, without any State tax, and the State tax for the years 1840 and 1841 was only one hundred thousand dollars The argument of economy had therefore very little practical force Now the State owes about $700 000 00 in scrip and holds about $335 000 00 in trust for schools and for the Indian tribes making a permanent debt of over a million of dollars The annual interest on this debt is over $60,000 00, and the installment of the principal which falls due averages about $40 000 00 annually, so that about one hundred thousand must be annually raised on account of the permanent debt The cost of our charitable and reformatory institutions our expenditures for education and agriculture and our various other expenses amount to about $300 000 00 more

This great alteration in our financial condition, the changes of population which are inevitable, and of opinion which are natural during the lapse of eighteen years, the various causes in operation which have been considered and what we know of public opinion from the press and other sources have led your Committee to the conclusion that a majority of the people will be found in favor of biennial sessions and the tone of the Legislature will give them an opportunity to express their opinions

As your Committee are of opinion that these changes would be for the public good, they herewith submit a resolve for the amendment of the Constitution in these respects, and providing that the first election under this amendment of Governor Senators and Representatives shall be on the second Monday in September eighteen hundred and sixty and the first election of State officers by the Legislature shall be in January eighteen hundred and sixty one

The order referred to us, following in that respect the language of the Governor's Address, speaks of biennial elections, without defining what elections Was it intended to embrace county officers so as to dispense with the annual September election?

Your Committee find that the constitution provides for the election of Judges and Register of Probate once in four years and Sheriffs once in two years, and that the laws provide for the election of Clerk of the Courts, County Attorney and County Commissioners for the term of three years each and of Register of Deeds for the term of five years.

If the Governor and members of the Legislature should be chosen biennially, on the same years with Members of Congress, as provided for in the above resolve, there will be no officers to choose on the intervening years, but, on the average, three of these county officers a year

It appears to your Committee that this would not be enough to give interest to an election. That it would give the people too much trouble to nominate the candidates and attend the polls; and the candidates too much trouble to get out the voters

Your Committee, therefore, report a sec-

Sugar Coated Pills for Northern Democrats.

We have always felt a degree of pity for the northern democrats who have been compelled from time to time to swallow new and nauseating doses, prepared for them by the slave oligarchy. The first of the recent series of pills was the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, but this was augured with a thick coating of "popular sovereignty." "The people of a territory must be left free to admit or reject slavery!" This was to cover and conceal the bitter ingredients. So the pill was swallowed.—But the patients soon began to feel uneasy at the stomach, and to find that the medicine was "subject to the Constitution of the United States." Soon it was announced to the nauseated sufferers that this popular sovereignty could admit, but could not exclude slavery; that this "Constitution of the United States," as they were required to understand it, carried slavery by its own force into every Territory, and that no power on earth,—neither Congress nor the people of the United States, nor the Legislature or people of a territory, could constitutionally prevent slavery therein,—according to democratic doctrine.

This was rather strong—but it went down. But soon the slave power discovered that the abstract doctrine that slavery exists to the territories by force of the Constitution of the United States was a mere generality, without some legislation, either by Congress or the Territorial Legislature. So another pill was prepared by the Sangradoes of the party, in the shape of an act of Congress establishing a slave code for the territories. The whole cry of "non-intervention," so lustily shouted at the commencement, was qualified so as to read "non-intervention in favor of freedom, but direct and positive intervention by law to protect and secure slavery." This pill has not yet been sugared—and is held back for the time being—but it has been adopted as the next dose, by the doctors of the South, who have the northern democracy as their patient patient, under their treatment.

The acquisition of Cuba by purchase, by fraud, corruption or bribery,—or these failing by ruffian and robber force,—the opening of the slave trade to stock plantations with stolen human beings, and the right to bring and hold slaves in the free States, are severally to be adopted as approved medicine for the body politic and to be forced down the throats of the democracy—let them wince or resist or make what grimaces they may. They must all be swallowed, and the poor patients must swear that they find them very pleasant to the taste, and that they never felt better in their lives and that their democratic livers are mightily invigorated thereby.

But here comes a shout from a fraction of the party, in New England, who dislike to take any more extreme medicine, and who now attempt to revise the original pretence, viz: that the people of a territory whilst it remains a territory may either establish or exclude slavery by direct vote and action. In Maine, in New Hampshire, in Connecticut and some other States, these men who are restive and uneasy under the load put upon them, have attempted to quiet their consciences and save their followers from desertion by falling back upon this dogma of absolute squatter sovereignty, and proclaiming that as the true national democratic doctrine.

Now we tell them what the leaders already know perfectly well, that this doctrine is not, can not, and will not be recognized or adopted as a part of the national platform of the party—that it is repudiated and scorned by those who control the party—that all the doctrines we have alluded to, including the slave trade and slave code, will be recognized and sanctioned, or at least not repudiated, at the Charleston Convention. And we further tell them that in a little more than a year from this date, these nonsensical dissensions will matter their last cry about even squatter sovereignty,—that thereafter the dulest cry will be forever hushed, and never again issue from their lips—and that they will either have to join the Republicans, or be found in the ranks of the nullifiers and dissolutionists, abandoning their present doctrines, and going in boldly and unquestionably for the nominee of the Charleston Convention.

STATE OFFICERS IN OREGON. The following are the officers chosen under the Oregon State Constitution; they will assume their functions immediately after the receipt of the news of their recognition by Congress: Governor, John Whittaker; Secretary of State, Lucien Heath; Treasurer, John R. Boon; State Printer, Asahel Bush. All are Democrats.

NATIONAL BATTLES BY SEA AND LAND.—This is a new and serial work, by that well known and able historical writer, Henry B. Dawson. It appears in semi-monthly parts, and is got up in the best style of art, both as to its portraits and other engravings, and its typography and paper. Subscriptions are taken by Mr. W. H. Graves, at the Bangor House. He is the sole agent for this city. To show the character of the work we append the following notice from the Sun on Transcript, a literary paper of the highest standing:

NATIONAL BATTLES BY SEA AND LAND—Johnson, Fry & Company, the well known publishers of "Spencer's History of the United States," and several other serial works of the first class, have commenced another national work that cannot fail to meet with a wide sale on all parts of the country. The work is called—"The Battles of the United States by Sea and Land. With Official Documents and Biographies of the most Distinguished Military and Naval Commanders. By Henry B. Dawson, Member of the New York Historical Society, Corresponding Member of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, &c." It will only be published in parts, at twenty-five cents each, semi-monthly, and sold to subscribers. The publishers guaranty that it will be completed in forty parts, and they feel sure that the time and labor bestowed upon the work by Mr Dawson will be duly appreciated by the general public no less than by historical writers and students. Among the many prominent points men who have warmly commended this enterprise to public favor, are Gen. Winfield Scott, Maj. Gen. Sanford of New York, Hon. Lewis Cass, and others of high standing.

Mr. Dawson's labors on this work have elicited complimentary letters from many of the best historians and historical students in the country, viz: Washington Irving, Benson J. Lossing, George H. Moore, J. Wingate Thornton, John Ward Dean, Samuel G. Drake, Dr Gibbs of South Carolina, and others. The October number of the Historical Magazine thus speaks of the work:

The initial number of a new serial work, uniform with Spencer's History of the United States, which, while it is intended for popular circulation, is written with the painstaking fidelity [illegible] author. Mr Dawson, the author, is a zealous historical student, having already given good earnest to the public in this guise by several valuable papers of value and interest. Among the [illegible] historical incidents of "The New York Fire and the Revolution," contributed to the City Corporation Manual for 1855, and a paper read before the New York Historical Society, 19th [illegible] 1856, on "The Military Roads through Westchester in 1778" pledge Mr Dawson to the public for no slight diligence and labor in the present extensive undertaking. The first division of the subject includes the Naval History and early Indian wars, from 1775 to 1815, commencing with a chapter on Lord Dunmore and Lake Champlain, which is published entire in the number before us. This is held to be a remarkable fidelity. A manuscript cached for many years being treated in the copious yet concise style of the judge. Perry's victory is given at length [illegible] the whole made into an exact statement by no one writer—if the writers' tools were also the whole. The text is well supported by an [illegible] to each chapter of the most striking Revolutionary movements with occasional biographical portraits of the soldiers. This is an excellent feature. Indeed the work on the whole is undertaken on a plan beneficial to a large "reading public," which, it might be wished, were oftener approached in this admirable way.

Each part has a fine engraving. The first is a portrait of Gen Scott, the second a representation of the Battle of Saratoga, the third a portrait of Gen Taylor, the forth a view of the battle between the Constitution and the Guerriere. The New England agency for the work is at the publishers' rooms, at No. 22 Bromfield street, Boston.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for March is received. The table of contents is rich and varied. The leading article is a very interesting account of Holbein's celebrated "Dance of Death." "The New Life of Dante"—a literary paper of much ability, is continued.—"Bulls and Bears," a story of State Street stock speculations, increases in interest.—The Professor at the Breakfast Table is [illegible] as usual, and withal becomes a story-teller. There is a comprehensive article upon Utah, the Utah Expedition, and the Mormons. The "Minister's Wooing" gets along well. Among other articles, one upon Charles Lamb and Sydney Smith—and a pleasant talk about our Winter Birds. Among the new books reviewed, is Sawyer's Translation of the New Testament, which is not by any means received with favor.

IMPROVED NEWS ARRANGEMENTS AT CAPE RACE. In view of the uncertainty attending the operations of the Atlantic Telegraph Co., the Associated Press have adopted measures to organize an efficient and permanent news establishment at Cape Race, N. F., and there is good reason to expect that from and after the first of May, a very large majority of all the European steamers will be boarded by the news collectors of the Associated Press off that point.

The Homestead Bill is considered to have been killed in the Senate by a vote of postponement on the 12th—there being a tie vote, 28 to 28, and Vice President Breckenridge giving his casting vote in favor of the motion.

Rev. Joy H. Fairchild, a well known clergyman, died in Boston, Monday morning.

LATER FROM HAYTI. Our correspondent at Holmes Hole furnishes the following:

"By the arrival of the schooner Abbie Forest, Smith, from Jacmel the 30th ult., we learn that at that place all was were very quiet. The excitement of the revolution had passed by, and business had revived to its former briskness. Coffee was coming in freely from the coast and from the interior.

The new government was looked upon with much favor by the people. One of its first acts was to repeal the exorbitant export duty on coffee, which is no less than one fourth of the whole quantity shipped; but upon examination the finances were found to be in such a disordered condition that the old duty was immediately restored. The old law would continue in force until such time as it could be conveniently taken off. This was a serious disappointment to the merchants, who were certain of its repeal."—Boston Journal.

A married woman in Rochester, N. Y., lately ran away with a very green and youthful lover, deserting not only her children, but "in the most heartless manner," her young husband. The newspaper which gives the account of this juvenile indiscretion says that she is the woman who killed a mad dog last summer, when several men stood by and did not dare to encounter the brute.

LABOR CASES.—Ship Sam Dadding arrived at this port this morning from Mobile, bringing 5128 bales of cotton, weighing 1,675,746 pounds, and valued at $120,000. This is said to be the largest cargo of cotton ever brought to this port.—Boston Herald.

"The Siege of Bologna."—This celebrated bombardment has just been pictorially caricatured by a French paper. It consists of a brindle dog tugging at an overgrown sausage.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A correspondent at Argyle informs us of the sudden death of an estimable and highly respectable lady of that place—Mrs. Mary Dow, wife of Wm. Dow, and daughter of the late Wm. Foster, Esq.—She was taken very ill about 12 o'clock on Friday night last, and died in fifteen minutes. The cause of her sudden death was unknown. She had been married but a few months, and her husband was absent at the time of her death. Her funeral services, performed by Rev Mr French of Oldtown, were attended by a great number of people.

There is considerable talk among Topsham and Brunswick people, about getting up a subscription to build a free bridge over the Androscoggin between those places.

Schr George Davis, of and from Bath, with slabs and lumber, was towed into Gloucester 18th inst, by fishing schr Christie. She was fallen in with off Cape Cod, in distress. The captain and crew, with their effects, were taken off. Value of vessel and cargo, $1200.

Mr George M. Sargent, one of the old firm of Wyer G. Sargent & Co., Sedgwick, has withdrawn from the firm, and has entered into partnership with Mr. J. J. Durham, 206 Commercial St., Boston, at the store formerly occupied by Henry Avery. The new firm will do a ship chandlery, ship, store, and general commission business.—Ellsworth American.

Mr. A. R. Bicknell, of Hiram, had his sleigh upset and the shafts broken into several pieces, while attempting to pass a team. His wife, who was in the sleigh, fell partly under the feet of the horse, but fortunately escaped with no other injury than a bruised arm. Her escape was very narrow.—Oxford Dem.

The Ellsworth American wants to know how far it is to Castine. The editor has just received a letter posted at that place on the 22d of September, and containing some very interesting news of the last State election. "Where has the letter been all this time?" is a very pertinent inquiry for him to make.

DELAWAN MARRIED. A correspondent informs the Jeffersonian that Wm. D Delavan, the quondam deaf mute, was married at Tobique on the 5th inst., by Rev. Mr. Lunford, to Miss Ellen E Comber, of Presque Isle. During the marriage ceremony he bore the name Thatcher, which is his father's name—His assumed name, Delavan, was the maiden name of his mother.

At Presque Isle, on the 9th inst., a little daughter of Mr. E. M. Burgess was badly scalded on her head, by the upsetting of a pot of boiling tea.

THE ARCOSTOOK RAILROAD. It is stated that the Railroad Committee have agreed unanimously upon a report in favor of the Arcostook Railroad. The precise nature of the report is not stated, but we presume that whatever State aid is proposed will be by way of public land grants.

SINGULAR FIRE AND LOSS OF BANK BILLS. Mr. B. F. Gatchell, of North Newport, placed $400 in bills in a clothes closet in his house with his account books, some days since. His wife also placed her work basket in the same place. Shortly afterwards fire was discovered in the closet, but not till it had consumed the money and books, and about $50 worth of clothing. The fire was subdued without further damage. It is supposed that a spark of fire was communicated to the contents of the work basket.

Birth Day of Washington.

BY GEORGE D. PRENTICE.

Why swell a million hearts as one,
With memories of the past?
Why flings out your deep thunder gun
Upon the crashing blast?
Why hold the beautiful and brave
The jubilee of earth?
It is, it is the day that gave
Our patriot hero birth.

We offer here, a sacrifice
Of hearts to him who came
To guard young Freedom's paradise
With sword of living flame;
To him who in war's whirlwind loud,
Rode like an angel form,
And set his glory on the cloud,
A bow of the storm.

A hundred years with all their trains
Of shadow have gone by,
And yet his glorious name remains,
A sound that cannot die!
'Tis graven on the hill, the vale,
And on the mountain tall,
And speaks in every sounding gale
And roaring waterfall.

No marble on his resting spot,
Its sea pierced column rears
But his is stamped in nobler lot—
A grateful nation's tears.
Old Time, that bids the marble bow,
Makes green each laurel leaf
That blooms upon the hainted brow
Of our immortal chief.

His deeds were ours—but through the world,
That mighty name will be,
Where glory's banner is unfurled,
The watchword of the free,
And as they bend their eagle eyes
On victory's burning sun,
Their shouts will echo to the skies,
"Our God and Washington."

The Causes of War between France and Austria.

The causes which now threaten war in Europe, are thus stated by the New York Tribune:

According to the view taken by the London Times, France has gone so far in support of Sardinia, and is so pledged to assist her, as to put it in the power of that nation to bring on a war at any time, just as Turkey brought on the late Crimean war, in spite of the earnest wishes and efforts of her allies to the contrary. Should a revolt arise in one of the Papal provinces now occupied by Austrian troops, and should Sardinia seize that occasion to intervene, she might, by a single precipitant movement, place France in such a situation that a war with Austria could not be avoided. The river Ticino separates an Austrian from a Sardinian army, and the first shot fired between them might bring on a long and bloody struggle.

As yet, however, the differences between France and Austria, though sufficiently grave, have not gone beyond the possibility of diplomatic arrangements, and the Journal des Debats recommends the application to the present case, of the recommendation made by Lord Clarendon to the Congress of Paris in 1856, that the powers represented in the Congress, in cases of differences between them, before appealing in force, should call upon some one of the other powers to act as mediator. This suggestion was warmly supported in the Congress by France, Sardinia, Russia and Prussia. Austria alone made any objections—an opposition, however, which did not prevent the expression by the Congress of a hope that the other nations not represented in it would give their support to this method of preventing hostilities.

One ground of complaint by France against Austria is, that she will not concur with France in obliging the Pope to concede some ameliorations in the government of the Papal States, a point to which Louis Napoleon considers himself pledged. In this matter the French can do nothing alone. The only means of coercion they have is by threatening to withdraw their army of occupation; but the Pope cares nothing for this threat, so long as he knows that he can immediately have an Austrian army to supply the place of the French.

The support which Austria gives to the tyranny of the King of Naples, against the remonstrances of France and England, is another ground of complaint against her. Her own misgovernment of Lombardy, and the discontent of her Italian subjects, is a third. These may seem odd modes of complaint on the part of Louis Napoleon, but he seems to have set up the doctrine that it is a duty which tyrants owe to themselves and to each other to make their tyrannies popular, or, at least, endurable on the part of their subjects. This is the system on which the French Emperor practices himself, and which he seems inclined to require on the part of the Italian rulers towards the people under their control.

There are also complaints as to the conduct of Austria respecting the affairs of Servia. It is alleged that in place of the Russian protectorate over the Danubian Provinces, which the Crimean war brought to an end, Austria is now laboring to establish a protectorate of her own, and for that end has interfered in the affairs of Servia, in violation, not merely of the spirit, but of the letter of the Treaty of Paris.

The Tribune's London correspondent, under date of Jan. 28, says

You may be certain that Napoleon and Victor Emmanuel are determined to make war; but it is most probable that for the next few months there may be a lull, and perhaps even a European Conference. The fact is, the Emperor of France was not prepared for the outburst of German antipathy against him. It seems indeed that the national feeling among the young men may influence the policy of Prussia, which, in the beginning, had no serious objection against any settlement of Austria's power in her Italian provinces, since the non Germanic provinces of Austria alone make it possible to her to throw an undue weight into the balance which determines the policy of Germany. Besides, Manzini and some of his friends resist the bait thrown out by France and Sardinia, and unhesitatingly denounce an Italian war brought about and carried on by France. Under such circumstances, it becomes necessary to strengthen the position of France by a close combination with Russia, Denmark and the Danubian provinces, in order to overawe Prussia, and to divide the forces of Austria. Unless a revolution breaks out in Lombardy, or in the Legations—and there is now no probability of such an event—the war will not take place before May.

A gentleman who has recently spent some time in Cuba, writes to the New Orleans Picayune that forty times the thirty millions asked for by the President, would not much facilitate the purchase of Cuba, under present circumstances.

It has been often predicted that the heavy glass sky-lights over the Representatives' Hall in Washington were not sufficiently secure.—Early on Tuesday morning, from some unknown cause, a heavy pane fell from the sky-light upon the desk and chair of Mr. Nichols of Ohio, who had but a moment before left his seat.

In a case before the Cincinnati Superior Court, it was decided that a widow is entitled to all the personal estate of a deceased husband, after the payment of his debts, and to her right of dower in the real.

HANCOCK MOUNT.—A Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature have agreed unanimously, to recommend the purchase of this estate by the Commonwealth.

To the Citizens of Bangor.

CITY OF BANGOR, January, 1859.
MR LEWIS WATERMAN, proposes to number the Streets of our city upon a plan which will mainly obviate the necessity of remembering afterwards, on account of the erection of new buildings, as each street is to be carefully measured, and the numbers to be arranged with reference to such probable new erections. He comes with recommendations from other cities and towns where he has heretofore performed similar services, which are satisfactory to us. It is hoped that the citizens of Bangor will avail themselves of the opportunity for effecting the proposed improvement, the expense being small.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, 21st.

SENATE—The diplomatic appropriation bill was taken up, when Mr Simmons went at length into the question of exchanges.

Mr Trumbull followed on the same side and was succeeded by Toombs on the opposite.

Mr Simmons amendment limiting the rate of exchange was stricken out and the bill passed 25 to 23

The House army appropriation bill was read and referred to the finance committee.

The Cuban proposition was then taken up, when Mr Mason offered an amendment by way of a substitute, to the effect that Congress concedes the propriety and ultimate necessity of acquiring Cuba, that without committing itself as to future measures, Congress at present confines itself to a declaration that the United States is prepared to receive the Island whenever Spain is ready to transfer it for fair equivalent, and that this country can never remain neutral under a policy which would sever Cuba from Spain, in favor of any foreign power.

Mr Collamer spoke against the Cuba proposition. He denied that an expansion of territory was a necessity of national growth, and contended that in our own case the acquisition of additional soil, by conquest, or otherwise, is at variance with the whole framework of our government, and especially so if much additional soil does not border on our own, and would require a standing army to defend it.

Mr Collamer discussed elaborately the effect which the acquisition of Cuba would have with its low priced slaves, which, he said, would be transported to Charleston at one dollar per head, thus stimulating, instead of extinguishing, the slave trade. He concluded by replying seriatim to the various arguments adduced by the supporters of the bill.

Mr Mallory commenced a speech in favor of the acquisition of the Island, but after he had proceeded for some time, gave way to a motion and adjournment.

Adjourned.

HOUSE—The House resumed action on the amendments to the army appropriation bill, and concurred in several amendments reducing appropriations to the extent of nearly $1,-300,000 Also in other amendments to the extent of nearly $200,000, including upwards of $100,000 for Springfield and Harpers Ferry Armories. The total reduction amounts to about one million and a half of dollars, leaving the armory appropriations at about $14,-000 000

The House refused to strike out $110,000 from the Arsenal Appropriation, and then passed the bill, 116 to 93.

Mr Millson made an ineffectual attempt to report a bill repealing the fishing bounties.

Speaker's warrant was granted for the arrest of Connelly, a witness before the Printing Investigation Committee, who had left the city.

The House refused to suspend the rules to enable Mr Phillips to introduce his bill providing for the payment of outstanding treasury notes, etc, and then went into committee on the Post Office Appropriation bill.

Mr Blair offered offered an amendment authorizing Butterfield & Co, to carry the overland mail by any route they may select. He wanted to compel the Post Master General to execute the law as it stands. He had been informed that the Post Master owned a large body of land in Arkansas and that this was the reason why the mail was sent over that route. Besides this there were considerations connected with the Pacific Railroad, which induced the movement in that direction.

Mr Reagan opposed the amendment, and defended the Post Master General from the charge of selfish motives in the selection of the route

The amendment was adopted.

Mr Sherman of Ohio, offered an amendment providing that the advertisements of the mail routes in each State and Territory shall be published in two newspapers only, of the largest circulation, in each

Adopted with an additional proviso that they shall not be selected in the same city or town.

Mr Colfax of Ind, offered an amendment which was adopted, giving the contract for printing the Post Office blanks to the lowest bidder

Mr Olin of N. Y, offered an amendment which was adopted, that the contract for wrapping paper shall be given to the lowest bidder

Without coming to a conclusion on the bill the committee rose.

Recess till 7 o'clock for general debate.

WASHINGTON, 21st.

About 12 democrats from the northern and western States together with those from Pennsylvania, voted with the majority in Mr. Phillips unsuccessful motion to suspend the rules and enable him to introduce his loan and tariff bill The negative vote was composed of democrats in company with four Republicans and two Americans.

Rumors have been circulated and believed that the President would transmit to Congress a message, in case of non-action on the tariff question, reminding them that an extra session would be necessary,—but there is no truth in the reports.

Gen Henar, of Cuban notoriety, has returned to Washington

NEW YORK, 21st.

The steamship Black Warrior, ashore at Rockaway, has five feet water around her at low water tide, and as yet remains tight. She has but little freight. Underwriters agents have gone to her, and will probable discharge her specie on the beach The wind is strong from North west, which is favorable for her getting off

Highlands 21st, 9 PM.—The Black Warrior still lies in the same position. Three lighters are now alongside of her, endeavoring to save her cargo. The wind is blowing a gale from the North west Weather clear and cold.

New York, 21st, 10 PM.—Ship Cherubim of Richmond, from Callao, while being towed up to the city, went ashore on the South-west spit this evening, and is hard and fast.

The steaming Screamer, Capt. Germaine, came up from the steamer Black Warrior, this evening, bringing the specie, passengers, baggage and most of her crew.

The ship lays with her head on Rockaway Bar, and has ten feet of water in her.

The Screamer has been engaged to attend to her.

Capt Bowen, of the underwriters, has gone down to her, and will at once commence to lighten her

NEW YORK, 21st.

The Washington correspondent of the Evening Post says the Committee on Ways and Means have changed their position and decided to report the Morrill bill but agreed to report Phillips' bill for re-issuing treasury notes without the proposed modifications of the tariff The vote stood for Morrill's bill 3, for Phillips 6. It will be seen in the Congressional proceedings that the House refused to suspend the rules to enable Mr Phillips to introduce his bill the vote stood 122 to 91, not two thirds.

LINCOLN'S WATER PROOF BLACKING, AND LEATHER PRESERVATIVE.

Keep your Feet dry and you will seldom need a Physician.

Is it not a truth that when the feet are often wet, it is one of the greatest causes of colds and consumption? It is a truth that when leather is often wet and dried, it soon becomes hard, stiff, and cracks, but when it is water-proof (this is remedied) By the application of this preservative, it remains soft, and entirely impervious to water.

After being engaged for 25 years in the manufacture of Leather in all its branches, and being often troubled with wet feet myself, I was led to experimenting on different compositions, and found it easy to make it water-proof, but at the same time extremely injurious to the leather. At last by a chemical process, I discovered a preparation which perfectly harmonizes with the astringent properties with which leather is tanned It will not only make leather water proof, but it likewise softens the leather, and it will Positively wear twice as long.

I have now used it for three years, and a large part of that time have worked in a wet tannery with my boots constantly in water, and have not had my feet wet during that time. I can therefore in all confidence, recommend it to the public as the best article in the market.

DR. HOBENSACK'S Worm Syrup and Liver Pills.

PROBABLY one reason why Worm Medicines so frequently fail of any good effect, is the fact that they contain no cathartics except as Worm Kill rs; consequently in many instances where we mistake the symptoms of disease and doctor for worms, when the cause of disease is not worms but a derangement of the system and consequent debility and ill health, no good results follow, whereas in the use of Dr Hobensack's Medicine, it being an active remedial agent, as well as worm killer, the patient once educately gets well, though no worms are brought away.

Thus it will be readily seen that it possesses many advantages over other worm medicines, as it is not only sure to kill and bring away the worms, but builds up and restores the patient to general health, besides

A. NICHOLAS, President. Office, 70 Wall-st.

A Perfect Security against all manner of Frauds or Counterfeiting on Paper—To Prevent Photographic and Ammoniatic Counterfeits, Erasures, Transfers or Alterations.

HAVING purchased the Patent for the exclusive right to manufacture and sell the Chemical Paper in America, invented and patented in England by HENRY GARNE, a celebrated chemist and officer in the British army, it is hardly necessary to say that the Paper is recommended by Mr. Kent, Assayer of the U. S. Mint, Mr Lyman of the New York Clearing House, and Meade Brothers, extensive and skilful photographers, 233 Broadway, N. Y. The latter say that no imitation can be made on a check or bank note printed on the Safety Paper. Below is our list of prices:

Bank Checks—35 cts. per lb.
Bank Bills—$18 for 1000 sheets.
Bills of Exchange—$25 for 1000 sheets.
Promissory Notes—40 cts. per lb
Sight and Time Drafts—$25 for 1000 sheets.
Insurance Policies—40 cts. per lb.
Railroad Stocks and Bonds—40 cts. per lb
Bank and State Stocks—40 cts. per lb.
Bonds and Mortgages—40 cts. per lb.
Wills and Deeds—40 cts. per lb.

For wrapping Silks and other fine articles it is excellent, as it prevents moths. 40 cts a lb.

For Indentures and Agreements, 40 cts a lb.

All State and County Records should always be printed or written on this paper, as the chemicals inserted in the pulp not only prevents erasure or transfer, but makes it lasting as time.

For Southern climates it is excellent, and much superior to any other, as the moisture of the climate does not destroy it,—the properties inserted in the pulp being a preventive. In all the Southern States, Cuba, the West Indies, and the Central American States, no public records can be kept over 20 years, printed on the ordinary paper, while the oils and other chemicals inserted in this paper makes it indestructable by the ravages of time It is also proof against the acids, and other vermin which feast on and destroy all other paper now in use.

The Company have now in operation Mills in Morris County, N. J., of about 300 horse power, and are able to fill all orders for Paper at the shortest notice

All orders for the Paper must be addressed to A NICHOLAS, President of the Company, No. 70 Wall street, New York.

American & Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,)
76 State St., opposite Kilby St.,
BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also, in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries Caveats, Specifications Deeds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services as moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors

TESTIMONIALS

"I regard Mr EDDY as one of the most capable and correct practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS MASON,
Commissioner of Patents

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they will find a visit a pecuniary and professional gain, and no one is capable of plotting their applications in a form to secure to them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Washington, February 8 1858.

Mr R H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but seven of which patents have issued, and that is a new powder such unmistakable evidence of great talent and ability on his part as to have caused all others to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART

From Sept. 17 h, 1857, to June 17th, 1858, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, secured on fifteen rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS. EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents

The Boston Journal

FOR 1859

"The Favorite Paper of New England."

Published Daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly.

Payment invariably in advance

In announcing the terms for The Boston Journal for 1859, the proprietors deem it unnecessary to describe its peculiar character as a newspaper, or to make any promises for the future. It desires only to refer to what has been in the past, and to say that the future will be the almost exact counterpart of the past. In terms throughout, the Journal will continue at the head of the New England press, in the qualities which go to make a first class newspaper, or to sustain the character it has obtained by forty years of honorable and successful journalism. In the departments of literature, science, and the arts, the Journal will continue its course in all respects, as heretofore, spending no labor nor money to give the public the fullest reports of all matters of interest, at the earliest moment practicable, and not upon the representations or statements of others, but by the devotion and patronage of FIVE Reporters and Correspondents of its own, in the principal cities in New England—and by the employment of experienced men in all the departments of the establishment, and by the most liberal and unsparing procuring of important intelligence, to make THE JOURNAL the name of the Favorite paper of New England, with this simple addition, that the character of the paper has been established by the unanimous voice of its many thousand readers throughout New England, as evinced by the increasing circulation of the several editions of THE JOURNAL.

BOSTON DAILY JOURNAL

It is printed on a fine sheet of paper, and is furnished at the rate of FIFTEEN CENTS per month, which includes the Sunday paper, and until the very latest hour will contain all the news of the day. In short, the publishers intend that the edition of the Daily Journal shall be the very best that can be issued. It is published at 12 o'clock at noon.

Six Dollars a year; Single Copies two cents.

SEMI-WEEKLY JOURNAL

Tuesday and Friday Mornings

Those in the country who desire a paper of literature and general intelligence, will find the Semi-Weekly Journal the cheapest and best paper they can subscribe for. Try it, and see if you do not agree with us in this opinion.

BOSTON WEEKLY JOURNAL

Great Success of the Club List.

Three years ago the Weekly Journal was established by the present proprietors, and it has been from the first a favorite paper in the country. Its low rates for clubs have brought it into many thousand families, and the result is that

THE JOURNAL IS NOW

It is made up with the utmost care, and the information of New England interest, and of the whole country, is sent there, will be found more complete than any other paper published in the United States. It is mailed at the low rate of one dollar a year, or three copies for two dollars. Those who have a club of fifteen can have one copy gratis, and one copy may be sent to the getter up of a club of twenty.

TO ADVERTISERS

As an advertising medium the Journal has no equal in New England, and its circulation, and unique system of advertising, have made it extensively absorbed advertising patronage of the best class of business men in New England. It pays for the room it occupies. Advertisements inserted in the Journal Reading Room, or sent to the office by 12 o'clock, will be inserted in the paper of the same day, as though handed in at the publication office, if made in advance. No Sunday advertisements have been employed to any extent, and no discount from the regular prices is ever allowed. Business men advertising these considerations, and the fact that its circulation is nearly

Three Times as Large
